

WHY NOT JOIN THE SUSTAINABILITY REVOLUTION?

Protecting your library's most valuable asset is essential.

Book covering can extend the lifespan of each book by up to three times.

However, many libraries have opted out of book covering due to concerns about the environmental impact of single-use plastics.

NO TOXIC MICROPLASTICS

In response to the library industry's call for sustainable solutions, Raeco developed and released Bioguard80®.

It is the only certified fully biodegradable book covering, that will not leave toxic microplastics.

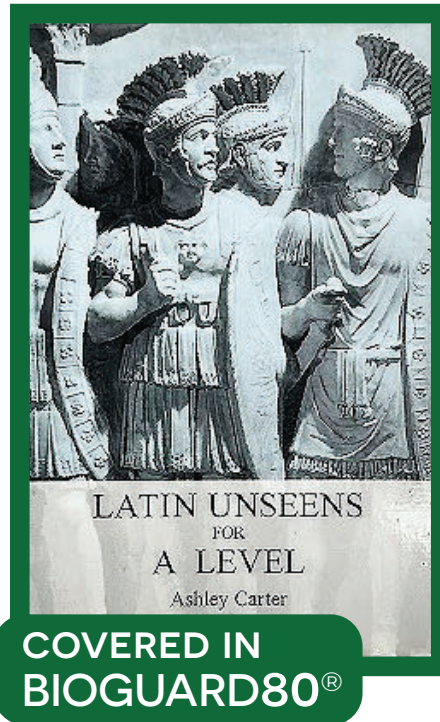

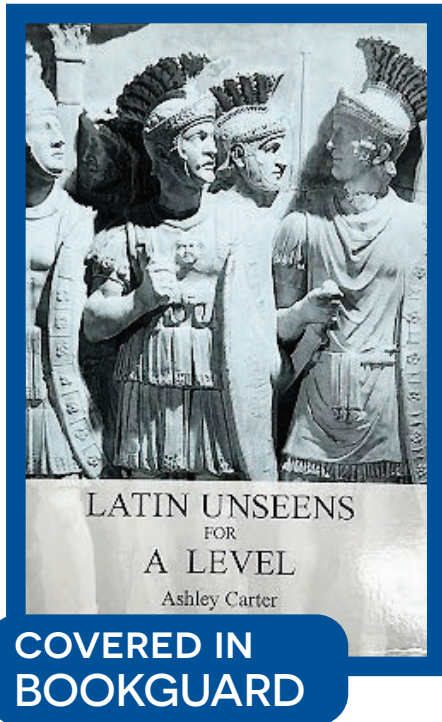

LET'S BE CLEAR

When removing Bioguard 80® from the backing paper, you may notice a slight difference compared to regular book coverings. It's not sand, it's not grit, it's our active biodegradable ingredient imperforated into our specially formulated film. Once applied to your book, the clarity is consistent with regular coverings and continues to improve over the next 24 hours - as shown above.

The Bioguard 80® unique texture is the active biodegradable ingredient. It will not start to break down on the shelf, it only activates when placed in landfill or compost environments. The texture also helps you easily identify biodegradable books for sustainable disposal.

SEE NO DIFFERENCE

We've conducted numerous blind tests showing two editions of the same book. One is covered in Bookguard, the other in Bioguard 80®.

The result?
Librarians could not distinguish any difference between the two coverings.

BEWARE

Some book coverings are marketed as “sustainable”, “biodegradable”, or “eco friendly”. If these coverings do not have any certification to back up their claims, how can you be sure they perform as promoted?

Bioguard80® is the only covering with international certifications. This means, when placed in landfill or compost environments, it will fully biodegrade, leaving no toxic microplastics.

WHAT ARE YOU WAITING FOR?

There's never been a better time to switch

Bioguard 80® is now comparable in price to regular book coverings
